LEAVING CARE?
A guide to local services for young people

Youth Services
This booklet explains everything you need to know about the help and support available from Plymouth City Council Targeted Youth Services to young people leaving care. It will help you to make the most of the services available to you so that you can make the most of your independence.

“Being a care leaver doesn’t necessarily mean you have to change the way you are and what you do. It just means that you’ll get all the help and support you need to ensure you have a better life. You can still go out and enjoy yourself because that’s your right. There are thousands of young people who are care leavers and many have benefited from what they have achieved.”

Thinking about your future?

Everyone has to think about the future. Things like jobs and training, money, relationships and health worry us all.

This booklet has been designed to help you think about all these things, to find the best people to discuss all the options and to make sure your rights are protected. This is particularly important if you have been in care and are now thinking about what happens next.
CARE LEAVERS INFORMATION
Here is all the important information and numbers you need if you want to contact the Care Leavers Team or if you have a problem you’d like to talk about. You may wish to keep this handy in case you need to refer to it.

Who can you talk to?
If you ever need to talk to someone, the Care Leavers Team is there to listen. Where possible, your first point of contact should be your Personal Advisor. You can write their name and contact number in the space below:

Your rights when you leave care
The Children Act 1989 and the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2000 give you certain rights as a young person leaving care. These laws say that if you have been looked after, for example, in a residential children’s home or a foster home, the Children’s local authority must provide you with:
- A Young Person’s Adviser
- A Pathway Plan – which maps out your hopes for the future
- Contact to make sure that somebody keeps in touch with you
- Financial support to help your plans come into being
- Access to your records

These services are designed to help you and you are entitled to make use of them to plan your future. Under the law you are entitled to receive this help until you are 21 (or 24 if you are in full time education).
CARE LEAVERS
MISSION STATEMENT

The Care Leavers Team believes in equal opportunities in everything we do and will not unfairly discriminate against anyone. We accept all young people for who they are and try to help and support you to achieve your aims and goals in life without judging you and with understanding, respect and commitment.

We aim to be honest and open and to deliver a service that will enable young people to succeed and grow within society.

We have adopted the DfE Charter for Care Leavers, more information is available here: http://www.education.gov.uk/childrenandyoungpeople/families/childrenincare/a00216209/care-leavers-data-pack

WHAT DO WE DO?

Our aim is to assist and befriend – that means you’re not on your own. The level of help and support you get from us depends on how long you have been in care. This will be talked about later in this section, but for now here are some of the things we can help you with:

- We will help you to find somewhere suitable to live, so that you can learn to live independently
- We will help you to get the education, training or employment you want to prepare you for a successful adult life
- We are able to offer advice and point you in the right direction if you run into problems

We use Personal Advisors and Pathway Plans to help us provide you with a good service that meets your needs. These are explained on the following pages.
WHAT IS A PERSONAL ADVISOR?

You are not on your own… When the time comes for you to leave care or become more independent, you will be assigned a Personal Advisor. We call them PA’s for short. PA’s work for the Care Leavers Team and are there to give you advice and support.

Your PA can help you with lots of things in your life. The main things they will do are:

• Be involved in understanding your needs and preparing your Pathway Plan (which is explained later) so that you can get a good idea of what you want to do with your life and how you can achieve it

• Review your Pathway Plan at least every six months to help you to stay on track and achieve the things you want from life

• Negotiate for you with Plymouth City Council and other organisations to make sure you get the help and support you need, including cash

Make the most of your PA – keep in touch!

The relationship between you and your PA is important. The better the relationship, the more beneficial having a PA will be to you. You can feel free to discuss your future with your PA, as they will be trained and skilled in helping you.

To make the most of your PA it is important to keep in touch! Your PA will stay in contact with you until you are at least 21, or 24 if you are in further education. You can agree the best way to keep in touch and how much contact suits you.

PATHWAY PLAN

A Pathway Plan is your own individual plan all about you – no two Pathway Plans are the same.

When you are 16, you will be given a “needs assessment”. This means that someone from the Care Leavers Team or your social worker will take a look at your situation, your needs and what support you may need before reaching independence.

Your Pathway Plan follows on from your needs assessment and is a plan about your life now and your future. Your Personal Advisor or your social worker will want to visit you to talk about your hopes and ambitions and help you to decide what you might need in order to achieve them.

Your Pathway Plan will cover:

- What you want to do with your life
- Where you want to live
- What job you want to do and where you want to work
- What education or training you need
- What financial help you will need to achieve your ambitions
- Your health needs
- Who is around to support you
- Other things that are important to you

A Pathway Plan is about you and for you, so it makes sense that you should play a big part in putting it together. Your Personal Advisor will review your plan with you as your hopes, ambitions and circumstances change.

Your Pathway Plan is your first step towards adult life.
TOP TIPS FOR INDEPENDENT LIVING...

Leaving care to start independent living can be a difficult time financially, especially if you are relying on benefits. To help you budget your money, here are money matters which you will need to take into consideration.

Top budgeting tips
- Electric heating is usually more expensive than gas.
- If you are working and receiving a wage, paying bills by direct debit will save you money as you will get a discount.
- Buy your fruit, vegetables, some household goods and clothes from markets as this is usually cheaper than shops.
- Look out for promotions at shops and supermarkets, e.g. ‘buy one get one free’ and note that some supermarkets are cheaper to shop in than others.
- Buying a monthly/weekly travel card works out cheaper than paying single fares, if you travel regularly.
- If you need to phone abroad you can buy international phone cards which are much cheaper than using your land line. You can purchase them from most newsagents or internet shops.

Personal items for your leaving care survival kit
- Basic food pack (e.g. eggs, bread, milk)
- Household pack (e.g. loo rolls, dish cloth, washing up liquid)
- Toothbrush and other toiletries
- Local A-Z and guide to services/shops/community facilities
- Phone card (if no mobile)
- Hot water bottle
- Travel card
- Paper, envelopes and stamps
- Leisure card
- ID (e.g. birth certificate, NI number, passport, immigration papers)
- Address and phone book
- GP and dentist phone numbers and NHS card
- Bank details
- Emergency phone numbers
- Mobile phones can be a very expensive way of communicating unless you are texting. Try to keep your calls short and to a minimum
- Recipes/cookery book

OTHER SERVICES

We want you to leave care with everything you need to cope with the wider world. You should not feel pushed into leaving care until you are ready. If you are staying on at school, going to college or starting a training scheme, you will not be disrupted at an important time. As well as the Care Leavers team, when you leave care there are many specialist other services in Plymouth designed to help you.

Careers South West
We provide independent and impartial information, advice, guidance and practical help for young people aged 13 to 19. In certain circumstances we can also help young people with learning difficulties or disabilities up to 25 years.

We help you to engage in learning and work, raising aspirations, improving life chances and personal outcomes.

We can also put you in touch with people in other organisations - for example colleges, schools social care, health, education, youth services, drug action teams, the Learning and Skills Council, employment services and job centres. See the ‘useful numbers’ page for their contact details.

Education and Training
There is a wide range of education and training available to people over the age of 18.

Most young people either stay on at school or go to a local college of further education to study for A-levels or other types of qualifications. Some courses are traditional and academic, while others are very practical and a lot of time is spent in places of work.

Your Careers South West Adviser, along with careers staff in schools and colleges, will be able to help you decide which route is best for you.
WHERE WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE?
At this point in your life you may not be ready to leave care or have any clear ideas about where you would like to live or the type of accommodation that would be suitable for you.

That’s okay…
You have choices and options that you can talk about with your Personal Advisor. Sometimes in an emergency situation, the accommodation that you are provided with may not be ideal, but is likely to be temporary and it’s worth considering other options.

When you start planning to move on, you will probably discover that finding a home of your own is not that easy and you may not be able to get exactly what you want straight away. When you update your Pathway Plan your Personal Advisor will help you decide what sort of accommodation suits you best and will do what they can to help you find it. You will probably want to think and talk about some of the following with your Personal Adviser:

Staying on with carers
Some young people stay on with their foster carers as lodgers where that suits everybody. If you decide to leave school and become a lodger in your foster carer’s house when you are 18, you will be living there as a paying guest and may have to claim social security benefits to pay for your rent, your food and your keep.

If you decide to stay on with your foster carers then you can put off taking up your Leaving Care Grant until you need it. If you are in full time education (such as A levels), you can stay in your foster home after your 18th birthday and up until you start college or university, if this is what you want.

Going back to live with your family
Some young people might consider returning to live with their mother, father or other members of their family. If you decide to do this you may find that things have changed since you last lived there. Your Personal Advisor will give the advice and support you need to handle the change and make the right decision.

The Social Security benefits system works differently for young people depending on whether or not they are living with their parents or close family. You will need to get advice on this.

If you decide to try living with your family then you can put off taking up your Leaving Care Grant until you need it.

Supported lodgings
If you are not too confident about living by yourself or with other young people, or you don’t feel ready to budget your money and cook for yourself, then living in someone’s house as a lodger may be the answer for you. Some people rent out a room or rooms in their house to bring in a little extra money. You must remember that as a lodger you are living in another person’s house as a paying guest, and that person can ask you to leave if things go wrong. If you decide to move into lodgings then you can put off taking your Leaving Care Grant until you need it.

Only people who have been trained and assessed to make sure they are suitable provide supported lodgings. You will get your own space and food so you’ll be independent, but support will be on hand if you need it. In return you will be expected to pay your carer £20 per week from your Benefits for the cost of your “keep”.

Supported housing
If being a lodger doesn’t suit you but you still feel you need a bit of help with managing the bills and generally looking after yourself, supported housing might be the answer.

There are different types of supported housing (often referred to as shared housing). It can be anything between two people sharing a maisonette, to 40 people sharing a large house. You have some independence but there are staff around to help you out, as well as the company of other young people. You will have your own bedroom but share the kitchen, bathroom, television rooms and so on.

Your Personal Advisor will help you decide if this sort of housing is for you and can give you information about the schemes in your area. These include providers such as the Foyer Project, Stoneham and some Housing Association Schemes. With these, you would be provided with either an individual room or flat, or a flat to share with another tenant.

Halls of residence and vacation accommodation
This would only be an option if you were planning to attend higher education. During term time you would share a flat or house with up to ten other students, but you would have your own bedroom and possibly your own bathroom. This would be paid for from your student loan although other help may be available from the Care Leavers Team. Speak to your Personal Advisor for more information.
Independent accommodation

This includes lodgings, bed-sits and flats where you would be living independently without any “live-in” support. Accommodation can be rented either by private landlords, the Council or Housing Associations.

Do not sign a Tenancy Agreement until you are sure.

Independent accommodation is a long-term or permanent option, where at the age of 18 you will become the named holder of the tenancy. Before you are 18, the Council holds your tenancy on your behalf because you cannot by law hold a tenancy agreement until you are 18. We call these ‘Training Flats’, which are explained in a moment.

It’s important that you realise that in all independent accommodation you are responsible for buying your food, and in most cases you will be responsible for paying your bills such as your water, gas and electricity bills. The Care Leavers Service will ensure wherever possible that prepayment meters and water meters are fitted.

Training flats

If you are 16-18 years old then you could move into a training flat. This is when the Council holds a tenancy agreement on your behalf and helps you to get used to living independently. You should have support, advice and guidance while living in a Training Flat. We will ask a Tenancy Support Worker to help you develop independence skills. The support worker may be a member of staff from The Leaving Care Service or from an independent service. Whoever it is, their role and the work they will be undertaking with you will be fully explained to you. This could be budgeting (paying your bills), helping you maintain your property, helping you to cook healthy cheap meals or whatever else is identified by you and your social worker.

Social housing

Social housing can be accessed through the move on process, which will be explained by your PA. Although you can choose the area you want to live in, you will not be able to choose exactly which flat you get. Your rent will be relatively cheap, you will be able to stay there as long as you want and you may have the chance to move into a bigger place later on.

To qualify for social housing accommodation, you will need to put your name on a list. Your PA will show you how to do this.

Damage to accommodation

When looking for accommodation it is important that you note any deliberate damage to accommodation, as this is potentially a criminal offence, could result in a police investigation. Deliberate damage will place you at risk of losing your accommodation. Money could also be deducted from your leaving care grant to cover any damages.

What if I don’t want to live in Plymouth?

If you don’t want to live in Plymouth when you leave care, you need to talk to your social worker as soon as you know this might be something you want to do. They can find out what will be available in the area you want to move to. They will make contact with the local Care Leavers Team, but it is not always possible to get you the same service as you would have in Plymouth. It depends on where you are and how much time there is to make plans before you know where you are going to live.

We will try to find a way of getting you in touch with support people in the area you want to move to. Plymouth’s Care Leavers Team will be on the end of a phone for advice. They won’t be able to visit you as often if you move too far away, but it should be at least every six months. You will still get the same financial help as you would if you were still in Plymouth.

Homeless?

If you are homeless then you should seek advice immediately. You can either go to Plymouth City Council’s Housing department. They should be able to provide you with temporary housing while they look into the reasons why you are homeless and whether they can give you more permanent housing. The addresses and phone numbers of these services are listed in the telephone directory or you can ask your Personal Advisor.

Tips on what to look for in your accommodation

When you receive an offer of housing it would be worth looking out for the following:

- Any damp?
- Broken windows?
- Is the gas working?
- Is there electricity?
- Is there hot water?
- Is there any heating?
- Do you have to share kitchen/bathroom?

You have a right to ask about your neighbours. Once you sign a tenancy agreement, you will be responsible for the property while you are living in it.
HOW WILL I BE PAID?

You are encouraged to set up a bank account or another account able to receive payments by BACS transfer. This means that payments from us will go directly into your bank account – normally on Fridays.

Leaving care set-up grants

Plymouth City Council will help you financially when you set up home for yourself by offering you a leaving care set-up grant. This is to make sure you have all the essential things you need. If you can claim a welfare grant you will be expected to do so.

Your Personal Advisor will assess your needs and what resources you already have before applying for a grant with you. If you move into furnished accommodation before eventually moving into unfurnished accommodation, you will be able to apply for funding at each stage.

When you shop for the things you need, your PA will help you spend your money wisely. Your grant will cover the basic things you need to set up home but please don’t expect expensive luxuries! When you update your Pathway Plan, your PA will help you decide what sort of accommodation suits you best and what things you will need to help you get settled.

Social Security benefits

You may be entitled to social security benefits, so make sure your Personal Adviser looks at your situation and advises you about what you can claim.

Job Seekers Allowance

If you are over 18 and not working more than 16 hours each week or studying full time, you may need to claim Job Seekers Allowance while you are looking for work. Go to your local Job Centre. You will be given a form to fill in or go online. You will be asked for other information such as pay slips if you have been working. You will also have an interview in which you will be asked about what type of work you are looking for.

The rules for claiming job seekers allowance are complicated; so ask your Personal Adviser to explain them to you and how to go about claiming.

Housing Benefit – to help pay your rent

If you are over 18 and not working, or working but on a low income, then you may be able to claim Housing Benefit. Local councils pay Housing Benefit to people who need help to pay their rent. If you are a social housing tenant then your Housing Benefit will be paid straight into your rent account.

Sometimes Housing Benefit does not cover all the rent you have to pay. This may be because extra items such as food, lighting and fuel are included in your rent, or it may be because you are living somewhere that is bigger than you need. If Housing Benefit does not cover all your rent, ask your Personal Adviser for advice, as it is possible to get extra Housing Benefit in certain circumstances.

Income Support – to help pay your living costs

You may be able to claim Income Support to cover your living costs if you are unable to work for any of the following reasons:

- Illness
- Disability
- You are a lone parent who is not working, or who is working less than 16 hours a week
- You are on a course of non-advanced education (up to A-level or equivalent)
- You are on a training scheme run by the Learning and Skills Council

You will need to contact your local Job Centre to get the forms you need to claim Income Support.

Disability Living Allowance

Disability Living Allowance (DLA) is a benefit you may be able to claim if you have an illness or disability that means you need help with getting around or with your personal care. Your illness or disability may be physical or due to problems that you have with your mental health or a learning disability. You can claim DLA even if you are working full time or are a full-time student. The forms are very complicated and you should ask your Personal Adviser or social worker to help you fill them in.

Welfare Grants

If you are entitled to Income Support or Job Seekers Allowance and are leaving care, or have recently left care, and are setting up home then you may be able to claim a Welfare Grant to buy things such as bedding, pots and pans and furniture. You may also be able to claim for items that would help you to stay in your present home. You can claim a Welfare Grant from Plymouth City Council.

To receive a community Care Grant you must be:

- Receiving Income Support or
- Receiving Income Based Job Seekers Allowance, or

Plymouth City Council considers each application for Welfare Grants individually, so you need to include as much information on your application form as possible. You will need to give details of the following:

- What you need to buy
- Why you need it
- What will happen to you if you do not get it

Extra help

Young people can also receive free prescriptions, dental and optical treatment, although you may have to contribute to this if you work. You will need to fill in a form called HC1 which you can get from your PA.
WHAT IF I WANT TO GO INTO HIGHER EDUCATION?

The Care Leavers Team is committed to supporting you while you are studying at University.

We have a duty to make sure you have suitable accommodation during vacation periods and financial support throughout your course of study.

Support would usually end on your 21st birthday, but if you started a university course before this then we can support you until you are 24.

The number and nature of university courses vary, as do the costs associated with the course itself, the cost of local accommodation and daily travel costs to and from university. The costs described in this book are the minimum that you might need. You will need to include the actual costs in your Pathway Plan and agree them with the Manager of the Care Leavers Team.

Our expectations are that:

- Tuition fees will be met by the Local Education Authority
- You will not be required to work during term time
- You will seek employment during vacations

If you take up a course of higher education, you can expect to receive:

- £1,000 per term at the start of each term for 3 terms.
- Accommodation costs for holiday periods

Extra information

Dependent on your living arrangements, you may need to buy items such as bedding, crockery etc. This should come from your leaving care grant.

You will need to work with your Personal Advisor to draw up a budget to ensure that you can meet your essential day-to-day living costs from the funds that are available to you.

You should also be aware that extra funding may be available from the university bursary fund. To find out more, contact the welfare service or access officer at your university.

If you have a dependant then your Local Education Authority will pay 85 per cent of the cost for registered childcare. You will also get a Parents Learning Allowance of up to £1,300 per year, and in most cases will be eligible for income support during the summer vacation. You are also likely to qualify for extra help from the university such as an Access to Learning fund.

EMPLOYMENT

If you are seeking a well-paid job you are likely to have to apply in writing and usually provide a curriculum vitae (CV). This is an account of your education, qualifications, previous jobs and anything that makes you suitable for the post. Both the application and the CV need to be compiled carefully and it is advisable that they are typewritten.

You can find advertisements for job vacancies in local and national newspapers, available to read in libraries as well as at your local job centre. Job vacancies are also advertised on many organisations’ websites.

Careers South West

Offers advice on education, careers, housing, money, health and relationships for 13-19 year olds in the UK. Support is also offered up to the age of 25 if you have learning or other disabilities.

Call 01752 207700 or email plymouth@careerssw.org or visit www.careerssw.org/

Employment for asylum seekers and refugees

As an asylum seeker you are not now entitled to work in the UK or undertake vocational training unless and until the Home Office grants you a positive decision on your asylum case.

If you have refugee status, exceptional leave to remain, humanitarian protection or discretionary leave you can work in the UK as soon as you have a positive decision from the Home Office but you must first apply for a National Insurance number. This includes the right to participate in vocational training schemes.

Details of these are available from your local Jobcentre Plus.

Shaw Trust

Call 0300 3033 111 Visit www.shaw-trust.org.uk

Supports thousands of disabled and disadvantaged people across the UK to achieve their personal development and employment aims.

Minimum wage

In the UK there is a minimum hourly wage and employers are not allowed to pay you less. For more information about the minimum wage, you can visit www.gov.uk.

National Insurance number

Once you reach the age of 16 and you want to start a new job or start claiming benefits, you will need a National Insurance number. You pay National Insurance contributions (NICs) to build your entitlement to certain social security benefits, including the state pension. You apply through your local Jobcentre Plus.

To find your local doctor, dentist, opticians and pharmacies visit www.nhs.uk/Service-Search

Registering with a doctor
The NHS is required by law to give you registration with a doctor in your area. If you cannot find a doctor who will accept you, telephone your local Health Authority and they will allocate one for you.

To register with a doctor, visit the reception staff at the doctor’s surgery or clinic in your area. Ask them if they are able to take you on their register. If you wish, you can register directly with a woman doctor, or with a group practice that includes a woman doctor.

If the doctor accepts you as a patient, you will be asked to fill in a registration form. After a few weeks you will get a medical card, which you should keep in a safe place.

All of the services provided by the NHS are confidential but your doctor will keep a record of medical information about you. You have a right to see your medical records but there may be a charge for this.

If you find that you are not happy with your doctor, you have the right to register with another doctor. To change your doctor, you can go to any other doctor’s surgery in your area and ask to register.

You do not have to explain your reasons for changing.

Alternative medicine
Alternative or complementary medicine – such as acupuncture, homeopathy and herbal medicine - is available in most parts of the UK. However, you will probably have to pay for treatment as it is not often available on the NHS. You can find out information about complementary medicine and the names of registered and qualified practitioners in your area by contacting:

The Institute for Complementary Natural Medicine (ICNM)

Emergency treatment
You can get free emergency treatment from the Accident and Emergency (A&E) department at any general hospital. You do not have to be registered with a GP to use the A&E service at hospitals.

Sex and sexual health
Some staff at The Care Leavers Team are trained to give out condoms, which are free. Please speak to your PA or our duty worker.

YOUNG PEOPLE’S COMMENTS

“Leaving Care workers do a fantastic job, helping thousands of us people through our lives whatever state we’re in. All the workers will go out of their way to do/get the best for us and you can’t do any better than that… They do all they can to help you, support you through thick and thin.”

“You can tell them most of your problems/issues – they will keep things to themselves unless you give them permission to pass on what you say to them… We trust them so much because of who they are – loyal, honest, friendly, trusting, hard working, supportive, kind and funny.”

“Being a Care leaver doesn’t necessarily mean you have to change the way you are and what you do. It just means that you’ll get all the help and support that you need to ensure that you have a better life.

You can still go out and enjoy yourself because that’s your right. There thousands of young people who are care leavers and many have benefited from what they have achieved.”
